SB ScienceManagement is a SME providing consultancy and services for all areas of science with special focus in life-science research. Among other things, we offer consulting in aspects of Data Management, ELSI and Responsible Research and Innovation (RRI). RRI describes the research and innovation process taking all factors into account that effects and impacts on the environment and society. RRI aspects are currently being incorporated in EU Framework Programs and in their projects. We are interested in creating a project how the funded projects (life-science) strategically implement Responsible Research and Innovation (RRI) in their projects and in young researchers training and education. Keywords: Impact, societal challenges, gender policy, outreach activities and implementation.

If you are an experienced young researcher or a doctorate holder with expertise in a field related to the pillars of RRI, we are happy to welcome you in our team. Please do not hesitate to contact us for discussing your application to the Society and Enterprise panel (or possible others) of MSC Individual Fellowships at our company.

We offer you help to prepare your application for the Individual Fellowship. Our company is well situated in the south-west of Berlin with excellent infrastructure and short ways either to the Free University of Berlin, the Technical University of Berlin or the Humboldt University.

For a correct evaluation of your candidature, please send a short letter of motivation.
