specialising on two core thematic axes: educational studies and European studies. The EUF has a vibrant research community with a strong international orientation and a solid track record of research excellence. Serving the campus are two designated research centres: the Centre for Research on Education, Instruction, School and Socialisation (ZeBUSS) and the Interdisciplinary Centre for European Studies (ICES). These twin centres promote networking, fundraising and support for early-stage researchers and thereby provide excellent conditions for MSCA Fellows. We therefore particularly encourage applications from scholars interested in the research foci of the two centers.

EUF is a member of the eMERGE European university alliance, a consortium of 6 European public universities: University Rennes 2 (France); University of Limerick (Ireland), University of South Brittany (France), Inland Norway University of Applied Sciences (Norway) and Matej Bel University in Banská Bystrica (Slovakia). For more information visit: <https://www.uni-flensburg.de/en/international/emerge>. MSCA Post-Doctoral Fellows at EUF which are interested in the following Emerge research foci will be networked with other eMERGE partners providing fellows with an international and interdisciplinary research environment also beyond the EUF community. The Emerge research foci are:

- 1) Marginalisation and related discursive practices,
- 2) European politics, policy, polity and security challenges,
- 3) Social policy, migration, spatial development,
- 4) EU languages, cultures and heritage(s),
- 5) Risk management, finance, trade war, digital transformation.

If you wish to have the Europa-Universität Flensburg as your host institution please send your proposal by June 15th, 2021 (12:00, CET) to marita.mcgrory@uni-flensburg.de. Please identify your e-mail and subject with MSCA-IF-2021 | NAME SURNAME.
