Rough outline of idea/position:

The Max Planck Institute for Demographic Research (MPIDR) in Rostock is one of the leading demographic research centers in the world. At the MPIDR, researchers from all over the world investigate demographic change, aging, fertility, digital demography and other issues at the forefront of population research. The Institute is headed by its directors Mikko Myrskylä and Emilio Zagheni.

The MPIDR is part of the Max Planck Society, the internationally renowned German research society.

We welcome proposals that fall into all research areas of demography but specifically in the areas of Digital and Computational Demography, Fertility and Well-Being, Population Health, Labor Demography, Demographic Data, Statistical Demography, Lifespan Inequalities, Migration, Population Aging, and Environmental Demography.

We would ask to send a CV and 3-page proposal outlining the research project, professional development and dissemination plans by the deadline stated below to the contact person Dr McCann.
